Omni Baking has Employee Appreciation Day, Raises Funds for Ronald McDonald House

It's a rare day when you can play ping pong and throw balls at a dunk tank on a beautiful late summer day while at work. But that's exactly what happened on Sept. 14th for the employees of Omni Baking Company. Omni Baking is an industrial leader in the area who considers their employees the most important asset.

"This is our 6th consecutive year we have had an Employee Appreciation Day and every time we try to up the ante," stated Daniel Mulloy, General Manager for Omni Baking Company. "We want our employees to feel welcome, respected and appreciated every day. They are the reason we run and we want to recognize them for their hard work. We want to let them know how grateful we are to have them work here."

Along with yard games, Omni management served steak sandwiches, salads and ice cream. A new addition to this year's festivities was a dunk tank. But there was a twist.

Omni Baking Company is an active participant in The Bakers Club of Philadelphia, a non-profit organization of local professionals involved in the baking industry. The Bakers Club is reaching out to its members in an effort to help raise funds for The Ronald McDonald House of Philadelphia.

The RMH is entering into an expansion project on their Chestnut Street location. The RMH offers free or low cost housing to families of seriously ill children visiting the area's hospitals. The Bakers Club has committed to raising enough funds to sponsor a guest bedroom.

Omni's management developed a dunk tank challenge to raise money for the RMH. "I think it was a win-win situation. We requested a $1 donation for 3 throws to dunk management. We wanted our employees to have fun and feel empowered and also help out a great organization."

As with all great things, it takes a village to make success possible. "We received donations for raffle prizes from over 80 vendors and affiliates. We gave our employees a wide array of gift cards, sporting event tickets, shirts and other items, including a bistro set. Almost 70% of our employees walked away with a prize," said Mr. Mulloy. "I want to thank all the companies who gave us a food donation, including Amoroso Baking Company, The Safeway Group, Taylor Farms and Frit-O-Lay. I also want to send out a special thank you to US Flour for matching what our employees raised. It is with their help that we are able to donate over $1800 to The Ronald McDonald House on behalf of The Bakers Club of Philadelphia."
